

Your Manifesto!

SDEF are putting together a list of things we want to see delivered by the next Scottish Government. At the moment political parties are starting to get their election manifestos together for 2011. We want to write our own manifesto to influence them and show them what disabled people in Scotland want and need.

We'd like to make our manifesto as specific and focused as possible. Here are some of our ideas about what we could include. Please remember this is YOUR manifesto so we want all your ideas, criticisms and demands! Please let us know what you think! We will be consulting more with you all over the next month or so, so get your thinking caps on. Here are some of our ideas!

Housing

At least 10% of all new homes will be fully accessible by 2015

Transport

Demand responsive transport (such as Dial-a-Bus) will be included in the National Concessionary Fares Scheme

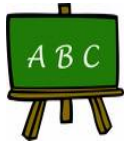

Poverty: Ensure that the Energy Assistance Package entitles all people with disabilities to assistance insulating and heating their homes where they cannot afford to do so

Health Work to eliminate health inequalities and invest to ensure that patients with underlying conditions receive adequate care whilst in hospital

Wheelchairs Commit to continued funding for the improvements brought about as a result of the Wheelchair and Seating Service Action Plan with funding guaranteed above current rates.

Education Ensure all staff teaching children with disabilities are fully trained to understand the conditions and help every child realise their potential

Information Ensure public documents are written in plain English and available in accessible formats so they can be understood and commented on by all.

Local authorities Recognise the work of Access Panels in Scotland and continue support for them at a local and national level

Please use this space to tell us what your priorities are and the changes you would like to see. Please use another sheet if you need more space or send us an e-mail.
